

Sudbury Chamber Singers looking for an artistic director

About the choir:

The Sudbury Chamber Singers were formed in 1975 by artistic director and conductor Dr. Douglas Webb and are now celebrating their 40th anniversary. A wide variety of music has been performed over the years, including masses, requiems, madrigals, gospel, folk music, pop songs and more. Typically two main concerts per year – one before Christmas and the second in the spring - and often additional special events are performed. The choir performs both a-cappella and with accompaniment, sometimes with additional guest performers. The group consists of about 25 choir members.

- Communicative, connective and inspiring leadership style
